EDUCATOR SCHOLAR COMPONENT OF THE BEZOS SCHOLARS PROGRAM

We know that inspired educators help create inspired students. That's why we're searching for innovative and visionary educators, often leaders outside the classroom, who can challenge and support Bezos Student Scholars as they return home from Aspen to create their own sustainable, Local Ideas Festivals. Upon selection of the Bezos Student Scholars, an educator — the principal or an experienced, dynamic classroom teacher — from each represented school will be invited to participate in the Aspen Ideas Festival, thereby offering a unique leadership development opportunity. If the principal cannot attend, s/he will be asked to identify a dynamic, respected and experienced administrator or classroom teacher from the school to attend the Aspen Ideas Festival as a Bezos Educator Scholar. As Principal of (SCHOOL NAME), _____

I recognize that if one of my students is selected as a Bezos Student Scholar, I will also be invited to receive an all-expense-paid trip to attend the Aspen Ideas Festival as a Bezos Educator Scholar from June 26 – July 2, 2012. If I cannot attend, I will identify a respected and experienced administrator or classroom teacher from within my school to attend the festival as a Bezos Educator Scholar. I understand the Bezos Scholars Program @ The Aspen Institute is a rigorous leadership development program that requires a yearlong commitment from the Student and Educator as Bezos Scholars. I fully endorse both the student(s) applying and the accompanying Educator Scholar Nominee and believe they are best candidates to represent my high school. I also understand that the Bezos Educator Scholar will work closely with the Bezos Student Scholar in creating a Local Ideas Festival at my school during the 2012 – 2013 academic year.

INSTRUCTIONS:

If you are nominating yourself, as principal, to be the Educator Scholar, please complete Part IV b — the Educator Scholar Nominee Profile — on pages 3 and 4, which requests personal information and written responses. If you nominate another educator from the school, please share and hand-deliver Part IV b to the nominee. The Educator Scholar Nominee Profile can also be completed online.

THE OPPORTUNITY

“This program has left an indelible mark on my life as an educator. It’s a priceless experience that will leave a lasting impression on how I approach the challenges facing education.”

DR. MARK MARSHALL
2008 Bezos Educator Scholar

Each Student Scholar application should include a nomination for an Educator Scholar to be invited to attend the Ideas Festival, along with the Student Scholar, if she/he is ultimately selected. Principals may nominate themselves, a vice-principal, or another classroom educator. Expect long, power-packed days! Please think carefully about the dates, June 26 - July 2, 2012 (participation on all dates is required) and the commitment required. Educator Scholars will become part of a dynamic alumni community and will be expected to partner with their fellow Student Scholar in the creation of a Local Ideas Festival closing the 2012 – 2013 academic year. Learn more at www.bezosfamilyfoundation.org/scholars. If multiple students from the school are applying (we urge a limit of two), only one Educator nominee profile is required. However, feel free to submit additional nominees to match the number of Student Scholar applicants.
